address of the applicant, copy of the permit according to § 7 SprengG for handling explosive substances- Information on the type and quantity of explosive substances (BAM group, storage group, compatibility group)- Field map with marked deposit- Floor plan of the deposit.

The State Office for Environmental and Occupational Safety checks the documents received and usually drives on site to inspect the premises and to view surrounding buildings and roads. Depending on the storage group and quantity, protective distances to neighbouring buildings and traffic routes must be observed. Depending on the storage group, these are calculated using a formula according to Annex 1 of the 2nd Explosives Ordinance. If all conditions are met, a storage permit is issued. Depending on the effort, a storage permit can be expected after about 3-4 weeks.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

Verfahrensablauf	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In order to obtain a storage permit, you must submit an informal application to the Land Office for Environmental and Occupational Safety and attach all the documents required for a decision on your application. This must also include a detailed description of the project and the location. • The documents submitted by you will be checked for completeness and conclusiveness and, if necessary, additional documents will be requested. After complete receipt of all required documents, the responsible clerk will inspect the storage location on site. For this purpose, he/she will usually make an appointment with you, in which you will again have the opportunity to explain the project. • The clerk checks the structural requirements and the distances to neighbouring buildings and traffic routes on site. • If necessary, the clerk can then request further documents (e.g. an expert's opinion) in order to be able to issue a storage permit if all conditions are met. • If all conditions are met, the permit can be granted. If the conditions are not met, a negative decision will be issued.
Bearbeitungsdauer	At least four weeks.
Frist	There is no legal deadline for submitting the application.
