Teaser	If you want to join your German minor, unmarried child in Germany, you can obtain a residence permit for family reunification.
Volltext	You can join your German, underage, unmarried child if you come from a country outside the EU or the EEA, have custody of the German child and intend to exercise this custody. Personal custody includes the right and at the same time the duty to care for, educate and supervise the child and to determine its residence. A minor is a child who has not yet reached the age of 18. A person is single if he or she is not married and has not been married in the past; a person living in a registered civil partnership is also not single. If these requirements are met, you must be granted a residence permit. You can also join your child if you do not have custody of the child. The prerequisite is that you and your child are already living together as a family in Germany. A family relationship is assumed if the relatives maintain regular contact with each other that goes beyond mere visits. If the prerequisites are fulfilled, the authorities will decide on the granting of the residence permit on a discretionary basis. Under certain circumstances, the Aliens Department may oblige you to attend an integration course. This will then be noted on your residence permit.

Modul	Sachverhalt
	The residence permit is a temporary residence title and is issued for at least one year.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Valid passport or passport replacement • Current biometric photo • Visa, as far as this was necessary for the entry • Birth certificate of your child • Proof of custody, if applicable • If applicable, proof of living together as a family • Current certificate of registration In individual cases, the Aliens Department may request further documents.
Voraussetzungen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You have a recognised and valid passport or passport replacement and - if required for entry - an appropriate visa. • Your child is a minor, unmarried and has German citizenship. • You have the right of custody over your child and wish to exercise this right or, as a parent who does not have the right of custody, you are already living with the child in Germany. • There is no interest in deportation against you. Your stay does not jeopardise or impair the interests of the Federal Republic of Germany.

Verfahrensablauf	The procedure is as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Depending on the immigration authority and concerns, it may be possible to apply via the Internet. Find out whether your immigration authority offers the electronic application for a residence permit. • If the application is only possible in person, make an appointment with the Foreigners' Registration Office. During the appointment, your application will be received and your supporting documents will be checked (bring them with you to the appointment). Your fingerprints will be taken for the production of an electronic residence permit (eAT). • In the event of an electronic application, the Foreigners' Registration Office will contact you upon receipt of your online application in order to make an appointment at the Foreigners' Registration Office if necessary. During the appointment, your certificates will be checked (bring them with you to the appointment) and your fingerprints will be taken for the production of the eAT. • If your application is granted, the Foreigners' Registration Office will arrange for the eAT. • After about six to eight weeks, you can pick up the eAT at the Foreigners' Registration Office. The eAT must always be picked up in person.
Bearbeitungsdauer	about six to eight weeks.
Frist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The residence permit should be applied for at least eight weeks before the expiry of your valid visa or current residence permit or – if you are legally staying in Germany without a visa – within 90 days of entry. • Time limit for bringing an action: 1 month
