Teaser	If you would like the monument properties of an object to be determined, you can apply for this at the State Office for Monument Protection.
Volltext	Cultural monuments are architectural monuments, ground monuments, movable monuments and monuments of the history of the earth. They must be protected, cared for and scientifically researched. In order for an object to be considered a monument, it must possess certain characteristics. In order to check whether it meets the requirements to be placed under monument protection, you must submit an application for the determination of monument status. If the requirements are met and there is a public interest in the preservation of the object, it is considered worthy of a monument. The same applies to the review for the withdrawal of the monument properties. After examining the facts of the case, the Lower Saxony State Office for the Preservation of Monuments determines whether an object has monument properties. If this is the case, it will be included in the list of cultural monuments.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	• Address data of the object • If necessary, documents relating to the object • Proof of ownership, if applicable • If applicable, proof of urgent authorization

Hinweise	The declaratory administrative act merely confirms the legal requirements of a listed building. The action for annulment must therefore be directed against the status of a monument, not against the violation of regulatory provisions.
Rechtsbehelf	You can file a lawsuit against the decision in the case of movable monuments and architectural monuments that were included in the list of cultural monuments after 2011 and thus initiate an appeal procedure. In the case of architectural monuments that were included in the register of cultural monuments before 2011, ground monuments and immovable monuments of the earth's history, no declaratory administrative act can be applied for. In this case, a declaratory action must be brought directly before the administrative court.
