Verfahrensablauf

The anonymised copy of a court decision can only be issued by the court that issued the judgment or order. For this purpose, an informal application must be made to the court. After receipt of the application, it is examined whether the requested court decision is in principle suitable for being handed over to a third party not involved in the proceedings. If this is the case, the court decision regarding sensitive data of the parties to the proceedings will be anonymised and sent to the applicant. The costs incurred will then be dealt with separately.

If you cannot find the desired court decision on the Internet, you can also request the decision directly from the court that issued the decision.

You should provide the following information:

- Your full address (with telephone and fax number)
- if known: file number of the decision
- if known: date of the decision
- a rough description of what the decision is about
- a brief explanation of your legitimate interest in the
