Teaser	If you would like to have previous academic achievements recognised for your degree programme, you can submit an application to your current university. Under certain conditions, you can also apply for the recognition of competences acquired outside of higher education .
Volltext	You can have credits from previous courses of study recognised in your current degree programme. This applies to academic achievements at your previous university, a university in Germany or abroad. This can be a change of subject within your university, a change of university within your degree programme, a change of university outside your degree programme or a stay abroad at a university. You can also have non-university skills that you have gained during vocational training, for example, credited. These can be credited with a share of up to 50 percent of the services to be provided. context, the following are compared: content, learning outcomes, competences; level, for example, Bachelor's or Master's; the amount of time or the amount of work required, expressed in ECTS credits. The qualification or course profile of the previous course of study and the recognition of the former educational institution also play a role in the examination. If equivalence is determined, recognition is granted.

Credits for non-university competences can be granted with a share of up to 50 percent of the credits to be acquired.

If any uncertainties arise during the examination of your application, the university may contact you with questions.

After the examination, the university will inform you of the decision on recognition or recognition and, if necessary, place you in a higher semester.

Bearbeitungsdauer

The processing time depends on the respective university and the specific request. There is no statutory processing deadline.

Frist

The application for recognition of academic achievements or recognition of competences acquired outside of higher education is regulated by each university itself.
