Teaser	If you work in the technical field of radiation protection (e.g. operating X-ray equipment or handling radioactive substances), you must provide proof of the necessary specialist knowledge. You can apply for this from the competent authority for radiation protection.
Volltext	If you intend to operate X-ray equipment or handle radioactive materials, a certificate of competence from the competent authority is required. To do this, you must first successfully complete a recognized course to acquire specialist knowledge. You then apply to the competent authority for a certificate of professional competence. The authority will then check your documents and the requirements and, if you pass the examination, will certify your specialist knowledge. It should also be noted that you must update your specialist knowledge after five years at the latest.
