Volltext	If you want to hunt, you have to successfully pass a hunter's exam and get a hunting license. The hunter's examination is taken by the competent authority. The comprehensive exam consists of the shooting, the written and the oral-practical exam. Preparatory courses for the hunter's examination are offered by the district groups of the state hunters' association and by private hunting schools. Participation in a course in preparation for the exam is highly recommended. In order to meet the needs of the interested group of people, both short-term intensive courses and courses lasting several months are offered to choose from.
