Volltext	The aim of integration assistance is to avoid or alleviate a disability. If your child has a disability or is at risk of being disabled, you may be granted additional benefits for daycare at the daycare center. For this, an individual need for support must be determined. Your child can be cared for in an inclusive group with and without disabilities or alone in a group with children without disabilities (individual integration). Additional services are possible in crèche groups (children under the age of 3), kindergarten groups (children from the age of 3) and in after-school care groups (from school enrolment to the age of 14). If there is a certain need for special support, children can also be cared for in a curative kindergarten for children with a mental or physical disability, in a speech therapy kindergarten or in a curative education kindergarten for children with a hearing impairment. In speech therapy kindergartens or curative

Sachverhalt

kindergartens for children with a hearing impairment, children with a significant speech or hearing impairment that is not only temporary – usually after reaching the age of 4 – are cared for. There they receive both curative education and medical-therapeutic services.

Curative education kindergartens, speech therapy kindergartens and curative education kindergartens for children with a hearing impairment specialize in the promotion and care of children with disabilities. They do not always offer joint care for children with and without disabilities. If the institution responsible for integration assistance identifies an individual need for support in your child, it will bear the cost of the benefits. Your income and assets may be taken into account.

In a speech therapy kindergarten or in a curative education kindergarten for children with a hearing impairment, curative education and medical-therapeutic services are provided jointly as "speech therapy treatment" (interdisciplinary complex service). The basis for this is the Lower Saxony "Agreement on the Promotion of Curative Education and Medical Therapies in Speech Therapy Kindergartens". Whether your child has a need is determined by the local provider of integration assistance - with the participation of the specialist advice on hearing, language and vision of the Lower Saxony State Office for Social Affairs, Youth and Family.
