Teaser	The certificate in tax matters is issued on application by the responsible tax office. It is used for presentation to authorities and public and private clients.
Volltext	The "Bescheinigung in Steuersachen" (formerly: "steuerliche Unbedenklichkeitsbescheinigung") can be issued in all cases in which other authorities or contracting authorities base their decisions in approval or award procedures on the tax reliability of the taxpayer. The content of the certificate is limited to the non-judgmental statement of tax facts, such as the taxpayer's payment and filing history. The certificate refers to the current state of affairs, taking into account the applicant's past behavior. A forecast of the applicant's future behavior is not made in this respect. The assessment of the certified tax behavior is left to the person who is to take the measure requested by the taxpayer (e.g. granting a business license or awarding public contracts).
Erforderliche Unterlagen	The tax office certifies the tax facts on the basis of its knowledge of the applicant's payment and tax behavior. Separate documents to be submitted by the applicant are not required for the "certificate in tax matters". An informal application is sufficient.
