Teaser	You must submit a written application to the responsible road construction authority (municipality/district/state) for the construction of the property access road.
Volltext	In order to develop a property, it is necessary to create an access road to the property. In most cases, construction work on the existing road and sidewalk is required to create the access road to the property. These structural interventions can include, for example, lowering the kerb, interrupting the ditch for roadway drainage, piping the ditch for roadway drainage, adapting the footpath/cycle path. To create an access road to a property, you must submit an application to the responsible road construction authority (municipality, district, state) with a brief textual description and/or, if applicable, justification of the project. If an application is made for the creation of a second access road to a property, the applicant must provide a justification of the necessity, as a property with one access road is sufficiently developed.
