Teaser	The Local Court - Family Court - has jurisdiction for applications for divorce or annulment of a marriage or for a declaration of the existence or non-existence of a marriage (matrimonial matters).
Volltext	Matrimonial matters are decided by the local court - family court - in whose district one of the spouses and all joint minor children have their habitual residence. This also applies if only some of the joint minor children live with the spouse and no joint minor children live with the other spouse. Otherwise, the court in whose district the spouses last lived together has jurisdiction if one of the spouses still has their habitual residence in this district. If none of these cases apply, the court in whose district the defendant has their habitual residence has jurisdiction, or alternatively the court in the applicant's habitual residence.
Erforderliche Unterlagen
Voraussetzungen	A written application for divorce signed by a lawyer (petition) is required for a divorce. The divorce petition can also be submitted as an electronic document. The petitioner must be represented in the divorce proceedings by a licensed lawyer (obligation to be represented by a lawyer). The respondent does not necessarily need a lawyer if he or she does not wish to make any substantive applications in the divorce proceedings (e.g. in the case of a divorce by mutual consent).
Kosten	If the application for divorce is successful, the costs of the divorce are generally offset against each other. This
