Teaser	Before charter and scheduled flight departures, measures are required to protect against attacks on air traffic safety.
Volltext	As at all civil airports, the Bavarian airports (Munich, Nuremberg, Memmingen) carry out extensive measures to check baggage and hand luggage and to check persons, which are mandatory for all air travelers. In Bavaria, the Government of Upper Bavaria - Southern Bavaria Aviation Office (Munich Airport and Memmingen Airport) and the Government of Middle Franconia - Northern Bavaria Aviation Office (Nuremberg Airport) are responsible for carrying out security checks. Fees are charged for searching passengers and their baggage at the airports to protect against attacks on air traffic security. The airlines are liable for the fees. Among other things, the passenger volume at the respective airport and the location of the security checks (centralized or decentralized) have an influence on the amount of the fee. The framework for the fee starts at EUR 4.50 in 2025 and ends at an upper limit of EUR 15.00 (see No. 2.1.2 of the Annex to Section 1 LuftSiGebV). The aviation security fee is calculated and set annually on January 1 as a cost-covering fee. Changes to the amount of the fee are usually announced in advance to make it easier for airlines and tour operators to calculate prices.

Hinweise

Notes on baggage checks

Hand baggage control

Passengers are not permitted to take prohibited items into security areas or on board an aircraft. These include in particular

- Firearms (including imitations and toy weapons)
- Stunning devices, such as stun guns and pepper sprays
- pointed or sharp objects that can cause serious injury, including knives and scissors with blades longer than 6 cm
- tools that can cause serious injury or endanger the safety of the aircraft

Modul

Sachverhalt

- blunt objects which, when used as an impact weapon, can cause serious injury, such as baseball bats
- explosives and incendiary substances.

A complete list of prohibited items in carry-on baggage can be found in the publicly accessible Annex 4-C of the Implementing Regulation (EU)2015/1998. Please also note the information on dangerous goods from the German Federal Aviation Office linked below.

Checked baggage

Explosives and incendiary substances as well as explosive and incendiary devices that are capable of causing serious injury or endangering the safety of the aircraft may not be carried in checked baggage. This includes in particular

- Ammunition, detonators and blasting caps
- Mines, grenades and other military explosive devices
- Fireworks and other pyrotechnic products
- Smoke canisters and smoke cartridges
- Dynamite, gunpowder, plastic explosives

A complete list of prohibited items in hand baggage can be found in the publicly accessible Annex 5-B of the Implementing Regulation (EU)2015/1998. Please also refer to the information on dangerous goods from the German Federal Aviation Office linked below.

In addition, many airlines have their own safety regulations or implement safety regulations of foreign authorities that go beyond the regulations of the German federal safety authorities. The airlines will provide information on further restrictions. The airline must be notified if hunting weapons are to be carried in your luggage.

Liquids regulation

For flights within the European Union (EU), restrictions on carrying liquids in hand luggage have been in force since November 6, 2006. The following regulations do not restrict the carriage of liquids in baggage.

Modul

Sachverhalt

Specifically, this means for all flights departing from German or EU airports:

The carriage of liquids or comparable items of a similar consistency (gels, pastes and lotions, mixtures of liquids and solids, as well as the contents of pressurized containers, e.g. toothpaste, hair gel, drinks, soups, syrups, perfume, shaving foam, aerosols, etc.) is only permitted in hand luggage if

- the liquids and comparable items are in containers that are no larger than 100 ml individually and
- all individual containers are stowed in a transparent, resealable plastic bag with a capacity of no more than 1 liter .

Only one bag per passenger is permitted!

The individual containers must fit easily into the bag so that it can be closed completely and nothing protrudes.

The plastic bag must also be transparent enough for the contents to be clearly visible and have a seal that can be easily opened at the checkpoint if necessary.

At the checkpoint, the sealed bag must be removed from the hand baggage before the x-ray check and x-rayed separately. To avoid delays at the checkpoint, we recommend stowing the bag in an easily accessible place when packing.

Exceptions to the quantity restriction

Liquid medication and special foods that are absolutely necessary during the journey for medical reasons are exempt from the above-mentioned quantity restrictions. This also includes baby food for babies or small children traveling with you.

Duty-free liquids purchased in the security area of an airport or on board an aircraft may be carried in a sealed duty-free bag. The duty-free bag must be unopened or undamaged at the time of inspection and must contain proof of purchase for the purchased liquids.

Modul	Sachverhalt
	The aforementioned liquids may be carried in addition to the 1 liter bag, but must be presented at the checkpoint and also checked separately from hand baggage.
