- Have reached your retirement age and meet the requirements for a severely disabled person's pass with the "G" mark (walking disability),

One-off benefits can only be granted in 3 cases:

- for the initial furnishing of the home including household appliances
- for initial equipment with clothing and initial equipment for pregnancy and birth
- for the purchase and repair of orthopaedic shoes, for repairs to therapeutic appliances and equipment and for the rental of therapeutic appliances

The same conditions apply as for ongoing assistance with living expenses (current need, no possibility of self-help). One-off assistance can also be granted to people who do not receive ongoing assistance for living expenses.

If you do not live alone, the social welfare office will take into account the entire family income to determine your need for assistance. For this purpose, the income of all family members living together in the same home is taken into account, for example

- earned income,
- maintenance payments and
- pension income.

Child benefit paid for minors and any maintenance payments for a child are attributed to this child in order to cover their needs.

Certain assets are not considered to be protected assets, for example

- Smaller amounts of cash (financial assets per adult: EUR 10,000) or
- an appropriate owner-occupied property.

These are not included in the calculation of benefits.

Apart from a few exceptional cases, you will not receive benefits for past periods.

Sachverhalt

family, neighbors, etc., has indicated that there are indications of a need for assistance with living expenses (principle of official investigation). Nevertheless, it is advisable to submit an application yourself.

- Arrange a consultation with your local social welfare office. Take all the necessary documents with you to this meeting.
- If possible, complete the application for assistance with living expenses during the consultation.
- The social welfare office must decide on your application and inform you of the result. This is done in the form of a decision, which is usually sent to you by letter.
- If your application is approved, you will receive a notice of approval; if it is rejected, you will receive a notice of rejection.
- In both cases, the notification contains the basis for the decision as well as information about the possibility of lodging an appeal.
- The approval notice must state the amount of the benefit to be paid as well as the start date of the payment. From the date stated, the social welfare office will transfer the money to your account at the beginning of the month. You can also specify a third party account for the transfer.
- Please note: You are obliged to inform your social welfare office immediately of any changes to your income, assets or personal circumstances.

Note: If you do not have an account, you will receive the benefits by payment order for offsetting. You must bear the resulting costs yourself. If you can prove that it is impossible for you to set up a bank account as required by law through no fault of your own, the social welfare office will cover the costs. Payment by cashier's check is not possible.

Bearbeitungsdauer

The processing time depends on the individual case.

Frist

The deadlines set by the social welfare office for the submission of documents must be adhered to. If you are unable to do so for understandable reasons, you must apply for an extension of the deadline.

Modul
Sachverhalt

Otherwise, the social welfare office may refuse to pay you benefits because you have failed to comply with your statutory obligations to cooperate. Furthermore, there are appeal deadlines if you do not agree with the decision - not only with the rejection decision, but also with the approval decision (amount of the resulting benefit entitlement). These deadlines must be adhered to, as the decision becomes final once the objection period has expired.

- At the request of the social welfare office, you must agree to other persons providing information (e.g. family members, banks, doctors, experts).
