Volltext	Lawyers have a wide range of opportunities for professional cooperation. The institute of the professional practice association enables lawyers to join forces with each other, but also with members of other professions. For example, an association with patent attorneys, tax consultants, tax agents, auditors and sworn accountants is possible. An association with members of other liberal professions is also permitted under the conditions of section 59c (1) sentence 1 no. 4 of the Federal Lawyers' Act (BRAO). Members of the legal professions from other countries may also be included in professional associations if they would be entitled to establish themselves in Germany under the Act on the Activities of European Lawyers in Germany or under section 206 BRAO. Professional practice firms are free to choose their legal form: they can organize themselves in any legal form permitted under German law. Commercial companies are also possible. In addition, European companies are permitted, as are companies that are permitted under the law of a member state of the European Union or a signatory state to the Agreement on the European Economic Area. Professional practice companies in which lawyers hold the majority of voting rights and in which the majority of the members of the management body are lawyers may call themselves "Rechtsanwaltsgesellschaften".
