Teaser	When handling explosive substances, the requirements of the Explosives Act (SprengG) must be observed.
Volltext	As a rule, only persons who are in possession of an explosives permit or a certificate of competence are allowed to handle explosive substances. Activities in connection with explosive substances have a high potential for danger. The aim of the Explosives Act is to protect people and property from these dangers. Improper handling by persons without specialist knowledge as well as misuse or accidents caused by disregarding safety regulations should be prevented. The Explosives Act places high demands on the suitability, reliability and specialist knowledge of persons who handle explosive substances commercially or privately. . The handling and movement of explosive substances are regulated in the Explosives Act (SprengG) and the ordinances to the Explosives Act (1st + 2nd + 3rd SprengV). Competent authorities:
