Teaser	If you wish to use the coat of arms or the flag of a municipality, county or district, you must first apply for permission from the municipality concerned.
Volltext	The coats of arms and flags may only be used by third parties with the permission of the respective municipality, district or county. Permission will only be granted if there is no reason to fear that this could lead to an infringement of the Unfair Competition Act (UWG). Municipalities may approve the use of their coat of arms by political parties or voter groups, subject to the principle of equality. In doing so, they must ensure that the parties or voter groups do not give the impression of being functionally or institutionally associated with holders of sovereign power through the way in which the municipal coat of arms is used. The use of the coat of arms of a municipality in a modified or stylized form, which could lead to confusion with the coat of arms of a municipality, is also not permitted without approval. Permission is also required, for example, for the extraction of a copy from a website.
