Teaser	The Free State of Bavaria grants a bonus of 3,000 euros for a further training qualification from a technical college or academy in Bavaria or for an equivalent qualification.
Volltext	The recruitment of qualified specialists is one of the major challenges facing society and the economy in the future. The Free State of Bavaria provides an incentive for this in the area of school-based vocational training: young professionals and those with comparable qualifications who complete further training at a technical college or technical academy in Bavaria receive a master craftsman bonus or a bonus for equivalent qualifications (bonus) for their successful vocational qualification (further training qualification). The master craftsman bonus is awarded to persons who <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • successfully pass a final examination at a Bavarian technical college or technical academy and thereby obtain the vocational qualification (further training qualification) at the same time or after any additional internship that may be required. • successfully take a final examination at a Bavarian technical college or academy as another applicant (external examination). • successfully take the translator examination, the interpreter examination or the translator and interpreter examination in other languages that are not taught as first foreign languages at technical colleges for foreign language professions in Bavaria at the State Ministry of Education and Cultural Affairs and are resident or employed in Bavaria at the time the examination result is determined.
