disabled people, the employment of particularly affected severely disabled people in the company and the circumstances of the individual case. to b)The Inclusion Office at the Zentrum Bayern Familie und Soziales (ZBFS) can grant subsidies to compensate for extraordinary expenses that arise in connection with the employment of severely disabled people and that the employer cannot reasonably be expected to bear. These include in particular: the extraordinary expenses incurred in the employment of a severely disabled person, e.g. for a special assistant, a replacement employee, personal care, etc., the pro rata remuneration for severely disabled persons whose work performance is significantly below average for disability-related reasons. The benefits are granted as allowances. The amount depends on the nature of the extraordinary burden, the severity of the employee's disability and the reasonableness of the burden for the employer.

c)The Inclusion Office at the Zentrum Bayern Familie und Soziales (ZBFS) can grant subsidies towards the investment costs for the creation of new jobs subject to social insurance contributions, for example for the purchase of necessary office furniture, a forklift truck or a delivery van. The amount of the benefit depends on the fulfillment of the obligation to employ severely disabled people, the employment of particularly affected severely disabled people in the company and the circumstances of the individual case.

d)The Inclusion Office at the Zentrum Bayern Familie und Soziales (ZBFS) can grant benefits of up to EUR 10,000 for the creation of new training places for severely disabled young people. Employers can also receive up to 10,000 euros for the creation of new jobs for people who have already reached the age of 50. The amount of the benefit depends on the severity of the disability and the circumstances of the individual case.
