Sachverhalt

professional qualification in nursing care abroad and

- intends to pursue gainful employment in Bavaria that corresponds to the professional qualifications.

Proof of training/training qualification means that proof of a professional qualification completed abroad must be provided.

Intention to work means that the applicant must have the intention to work in Bavaria. You must document this intention to the competent authority and, if necessary, provide proof upon request.

Further information can be found in the information sheets on the website of the Bavarian State Office for Care (see "Further links").

Kosten

The procedure usually costs between EUR 40.00 and EUR 70.00.

In addition, there are costs of EUR 40.00 for the certificate.

Verfahrensablauf

You must apply to the Bavarian State Office for Nursing for recognition of your foreign training as a nursing assistant.

You will generally receive confirmation that your application has been received within one month. You may also receive a list of documents that are still missing and that you need to submit later.

Once the documents are complete, a check will be carried out to determine whether there are any significant differences between the professional qualification acquired abroad and the qualification as a "nursing assistant (geriatric care)" or "nursing assistant (nursing)". If there are significant differences, these can be compensated for by other certificates of competence (e.g. further training, additional training) or by proven relevant professional experience.

If there are no significant differences, full equivalence
