Teaser	British nationals who are resident in Germany on December 31, 2020 and remain resident in Germany must report their residence to the Foreigners' Registration Office.
Volltext	The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland withdrew from the European Union (EU) at the end of January 31, 2020. The Agreement on the withdrawal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from the European Union and the European Atomic Energy Community (Withdrawal Agreement) therefore entered into force on February 1, 2020. Since then, the United Kingdom is no longer an EU member state. The transition phase runs until December 31, 2020. The Withdrawal Agreement stipulates that British nationals and their family members living in Germany at the end of the transition period will in principle retain a legal status that is very similar to the right to freedom of movement exercised until then. This right of residence is certified by the so-called residence document (§ 16 Freizügigkeitsgesetz/EU - FreizügG/EU) and exists by law. To ensure that the immigration authorities know to whom they must issue the residence document-GB, British nationals must notify them of their residence without delay. The notification of residence requires certain contents, namely: sufficient identifiability, notification of residence in Germany and the reason for the notification. You will then receive confirmation that the notification of residence has been made. This confirmation has no legal effect, but only documents that the notification of residence has been made.

The Foreigners' Registration Office will contact you to issue the residence document-GB as proof of your right of residence. An application is not required. The foreigners authority will check your identity. The immigration authority is also entitled to check whether you are covered by the Withdrawal Agreement. For this purpose, proof may be requested which conclusively shows that you were living in Germany on December 31, 2020 and continue to live in Germany or previously lived in Germany and have not stayed outside Germany for too long and have therefore retained your rights. In individual cases, the immigration authority may also check whether the other conditions for freedom of movement are met - in particular, whether you are either employed, looking for work within the permitted time limits or with prospects of success, or whether you can cover your living expenses from your own resources even though you are not employed or looking for work. Your foreigners authority will inform you if you need to submit further supporting documents.

Family members who previously derived their right of residence from British nationals also have a right of residence on the basis of the Withdrawal Agreement. They are not required to notify the immigration authorities.

However, it is advisable to provide information on family members in the notification of residence.

Erforderliche Unterlagen

- No documents need to be submitted with the residence notification.
 - The following documents must be submitted in order for the residence document-GB to be issued:
 - valid British passport
 - biometric passport photo

The Aliens' Registration Office will let you know if you need to provide any other supporting documents.
