Modul
Sachverhalt

You have a license to practice as a veterinarian or a permit to temporarily practice the veterinary profession.

If you have completed further training in a training course that deviates from the further training regulations, you will receive recognition upon application if the further training and the knowledge acquired are equivalent.

You can complete non-equivalent further training with full or partial credit for the training periods completed so far in accordance with the provisions of the further training regulations. The state veterinary association decides on the credit.

Kosten

Gebühr: 66€ - 100€
 Fee for granting the recognition: currently EUR 66.00 - 100.00

Verfahrensablauf

You apply for recognition to use the continuing education designation in writing. A form is not required.

- Attach all certificates issued during the further training and the evidence required for the respective further training course to your application for recognition.
- The State Veterinary Association will check the application and the evidence for completeness and, if necessary, ask you to submit further documents or information.
- The chamber decides within a reasonable period of time whether the certificates and evidence submitted with the application meet the requirements of the further training regulations and the content and scope of further training in the area or area chosen by the applicant as specified in the respective further training course.
- If this is the case, admission to the oral examination takes place before the chamber's examination board.
- Based on your statements in the oral examination, the examination board will decide whether you have acquired the required special and additional
