Handlungsgrundlage	§ 61 Asylum Act (AsylG)
Teaser	If your asylum procedure is ongoing, you want to work and have already found an employer who wants to hire you, you can apply for a work permit.
Volltext	If you are in the process of applying for asylum, you are permitted to work if this is expressly stated in your residence permit. If you want to work, you must apply for a work permit from the relevant authority. This also applies if you want to do an in-company vocational training course or an internship. To process your application, the responsible authority usually involves the Federal Employment Agency, which checks the working conditions. If you have already lived in Germany for more than four years without interruption, the Federal Employment Agency no longer needs to be involved. The work permit will be issued to you for a limited period of time for the duration of the approval of the Federal Employment Agency. The work permit will be issued to you until your residence permit expires at the latest. The following restrictions apply: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You can only be allowed to work if your asylum procedure has not been completed. • If you are an asylum seeker from a so-called "safe country of origin", i.e. from a Member State of the European Union, Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Ghana, Kosovo, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia (North Macedonia), Montenegro, Senegal, Serbia or Georgia, and you submitted your asylum application after 31 August 2015, you cannot obtain a work permit during the asylum procedure. • If your asylum application is rejected as manifestly unfounded or inadmissible and no suspensive effect has been ordered for your appeal, you cannot obtain a work permit.
