Teaser	If your company carries out installation, maintenance, servicing and recovery work on systems that contain gases that are harmful to the climate, you must apply for a certificate of competence in accordance with the ChemKlimaschutzV.
Volltext	The ChemKlimaschutzV stipulates that since July 5, 2009, installation, maintenance, servicing and recovery work on systems containing gases that are harmful to the climate may only be carried out by persons who have a certificate of competence in accordance with the ChemKlimaschutzV. This is intended to ensure that emissions of these chemicals are reduced to a minimum.
Erforderliche Unterlagen	• completed application form
Voraussetzungen	The certificate may only be issued under certain conditions (Section 6 (2) ChemKlimaschutzV): • The applicant shall provide evidence that personnel are available for the activities specified in Section 6 (1) ChemKlimaschutzV who hold the certificate of competence specified in Section 5 ChemKlimaschutzV. • Companies that are registered EMAS sites and carry out activities pursuant to Section 6 (1) ChemKlimaschutzV shall receive the certificate if the environmental statement or the environmental audit report shows that the requirements of sentences 1 and 2 of Section 6 (2) ChemKlimaschutzV are met and the information required pursuant to Section 6 (1) nos. 1 to 3 ChemKlimaschutzV is evident.
