Teaser	We would like to convert our registered civil partnership into a marriage.
Volltext	On 01.10.2017, the law introducing the right to marry for persons of the same sex came into force. Existing civil partnerships can be converted into marriages if the civil partners declare in person and with simultaneous presence in the registry office that they want to conduct a marriage with each other. The conversion is therefore a marriage.
Erforderliche Unterlagen
Voraussetzungen	The conversion must be registered with the registry office (comparable with the "Registration for marriage", see under "i Where can I find out more?"). The registered civil partnership must still exist. The registrar's office in whose district one of the spouses is registered with their main or secondary residence is responsible for registering the conversion. The marriage itself can take place at any registry office. The marriage itself can take place at any registry office.
Kosten	Gebühr: 13€ Gebühr: 7€ Gebühr: 114€ The conversion itself is free of charge.
Verfahrensablauf	The couple decides whether the transformation will take place at the desk or in one of the marriage rooms

Hinweise	Since the conversion is a marriage, both partners must be present at the registry office on this date. If the conversion does not take place directly after the registration for conversion but, for example, as part of a formal ceremony at a later date, a power of attorney for the date of registration is possible. It is best to contact the registry office in advance.
