Teaser	You are a single parent and receive no or irregular maintenance from the other parent for your child? Then you can apply for advance maintenance payments.
Volltext	Advance maintenance payments are a state benefit for children of single parents. It helps to secure the financial basis of your child's life if the other parent does not pay maintenance, only pays part of it or does not pay it regularly. You must raise the child in your household without the other parent. The child's center of life must clearly be in your household. You must not have married a new partner. If all requirements are met, the maintenance advance will be paid to you until your child reaches the age of majority. The amount of the maintenance advance is based on the minimum maintenance amount. Since 01.01.2025, the following amounts apply: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • for children up to 5 years EUR 227 per month • for children from 6 to 11 years EUR 299 per month • for children from 12 to 18 years EUR 394 per month After the age of 12, your child is only entitled to maintenance under further conditions, see section "Conditions".

Sachverhalt

- The child lives with only one parent in a joint household, and
- The child does not receive child support or alimony from the other parent, or
- The child receives child support payments that are less than the prevailing statutory child support advance rate.

If the child has reached the age of 12, the following rules apply:

- The child does not receive benefits for basic security under the Second Social Code (SGB II) from the Bremerhaven Job Center. Or:
- The child receives benefits for basic security according to the Second Social Code (SGB II) from the Jobcenter Bremerhaven and at the same time the single parent earns an income of at least 600.00 € per month.

Or:

- Due to the granting of the advance on maintenance payments, the child is no longer dependent on the basic income support (discontinuation of the need for assistance). This also applies if the single parent has an income of less than 600.00 € per month.

Children with foreign citizenship can also receive advance maintenance payments under certain conditions. Eligibility is checked on a case-by-case basis.

Requirements for the child or single parent (examples):

- Citizenship of an EU country
- Citizenship of Switzerland
- Possession of a settlement permit
- Possession of an EU Blue Card
- ICT card
- Residence title according to § 1 para. 2a UhVorschG.

Kosten

The procedure is free of charge.
