Teaser	Attendance at an independent school is possible under certain conditions.
Volltext	The compulsory school attendance requirement can be fulfilled not only at public schools, but also at independent schools. Independent schools admit pupils in accordance with the regulations that apply to state schools, but may set additional admission requirements.
Erforderliche Unterlagen
Voraussetzungen	Admission to independent schools is subject to the same conditions as public schools: • school age • if applicable, registration of children not yet of compulsory school age • successful attendance of elementary school as a prerequisite for admission to lower secondary schools • if applicable, special admission requirements for particular types of school or school types. Independent schools can also set their own admission requirements, for example • Religious affiliations for denominational schools • suitability for special educational concepts • special performance requirements.
Kosten	Enrollment is generally free of charge. Private schools may charge tuition fees for school attendance, which must be paid by the parents/guardians. Please contact the respective private schools directly for more information.

Modul	Sachverhalt
Verfahrensablauf	• Admission to an independent school is based on an application procedure that generally takes place during the same periods as at state schools. • Any deviations in dates will be announced by the independent schools. • In the event of a refusal of admission to an independent school, it is always possible to register at a state school.
Bearbeitungsdauer	The decision on admission to an independent school is usually made within a few days, so that in the event of a rejection, it is still possible to register at a public school within the deadline.
Frist	The registration deadlines for public schools apply; if necessary, different deadlines for independent schools will be announced by them.
weiterführende Informationen
Hinweise	Admission to an independent school is based on the conclusion of a school contract under private law, which establishes a school relationship under private law. Appeals under civil law are possible.
