Revocation of the acquisition of the married name of a parent and the stepparent (renaming)

If the marriage of the parent and step-parent has been dissolved or the child has left the joint household, the child can revoke the name and return to the previous maiden name. The parents' consent is not required.

Deletion of parts of names in the case of multi-part names

If the birth name consists of several names, all but one name can be deleted. The parents' consent is not required.

Changing the name if the name of only one parent is used

If the adult child has the name of one parent, they can replace it with the name of the other parent or create a double name from the names of the parents if the other parent agrees. Only the names that the parents had at the time of the child's birth are available.

Deletion or addition of a hyphen in the case of double names

If the adult child already has a double name, an existing hyphen can be deleted or a missing hyphen added. The parents' consent is not required.

Connection to the determination/change of the parents' married name

If the parents have only chosen or changed a married name when the child reaches the age of majority, the child can follow this name change and also use the parents' new married name. The parents' consent is not required.
